

Diocese of Pueblo

Sexual Misconduct Policy

Effective January 15, 2026
Supersedes all prior policies

Preamble. God made humans male and female in his image and likeness, and saw that it was good (Gen. 1:27; 2:21-23; and 5:1-2). The Bible teaches that any good gift from God can be misused, and that such corruption can result in injury or shame (Gen. 3:8-13, II Sam. 11:1-12:15). The Gospel calls the Diocese of Pueblo, the Parishes¹, and their ministries to serve all God's people, showing special care for those who are vulnerable, including children, the elderly and those experiencing brokenness or loss (Mt. 18:6; 25:31-46). The Diocese, the Parishes, and their ministries will, therefore, work to ensure their activities are safe for all.

Prohibition. Sexual misconduct² is contrary to Catholic values. It is forbidden. It is always outside the scope of duties for Clergy and other workers,³ and volunteers.

Screening. Each person applying for appointment or employment at the Diocese or a Parish shall complete a background information form during the application process. All Clergy and other workers and volunteers whose duties include ongoing, unsupervised contact with minors shall be subject to a criminal background check that is renewed every five years.

Education and Training. All clergy and other workers and all Diocesan and Parish volunteers whose duties include ongoing, unsupervised contact with minors shall complete the safe environment training provided by the Diocese that is renewed every five years.

Reporting. Every clergyman or other worker who believes he or she is a victim of sexual misconduct or who reasonably suspects sexual misconduct has occurred or will occur, shall report such information as detailed below and do so immediately and within twenty-four hours of receiving the information. There are three distinct types of reporting: internal, episcopal, and external. Internal reporting provides notice to Diocesan officials of all suspected instances of sexual misconduct. Episcopal reporting applies when the suspected offender is a bishop or his equivalent. External reporting provides notice to law enforcement of suspected instances of child abuse or neglect.

- a. Internal Reporting: Clergy and other workers who reasonably suspect an incident of sexual misconduct has occurred or will occur, including those who believe that they are victims of such conduct, shall immediately and within twenty-four hours of receiving the information report the details to the Vicar General. Instances of sexual harassment should also be reported to the Diocesan Human Resources Department.
- b. Episcopal Reporting: Clergy and other workers who reasonably suspect that a bishop or his equivalent committed sexual misconduct or that such a person, by act or omission, intended to interfere with or avoid civil or canonical investigation of sexual misconduct by a priest, deacon, or member of a religious institute shall immediately report to the bishop where the conduct occurred. However, if the alleged bishop offender is the present Bishop of Pueblo, the report should be made immediately to the Archbishop of Denver, to ReportBishopAbuse.org, or to the national hotline at 800-276-1562.
- c. External Reporting: The Diocese and Clergy and other workers shall immediately and within twenty-four hours of receiving the information report every allegation of child abuse or neglect to law enforcement. Any clergy or other worker who has any doubt regarding his or her external reporting obligations should consult with the Vicar General, or Diocesan counsel. "Child abuse or neglect" includes not only more than sexual misconduct against a minor but also physical injury of a child, malnutrition, failure to thrive and inadequate parental provision of food, clothing, shelter or medical care.

Those making external reports should make them by phone and in writing to the appropriate law enforcement agency. If they have first-hand knowledge of the misconduct, abuse, or neglect, they must not delegate their duty to make an external report to a person without firsthand knowledge. The written report should also be submitted on the appropriate Diocesan Child Abuse Reporting form that is available on the diocesan website, in the Vicar General's Office, and in the Safe Environment Office to ensure that the person reporting provides all the information required by statute.

Subject to certain exceptions, Colorado law states that any person who participates "in good faith in making [such] a report ... shall be immune from any liability, civil or criminal, or termination of employment that otherwise might result by reason of such" reporting.

Seal of Confession Inviolable. The seal of sacramental confession is inviolate. Thus, all reporting obligations do not apply when the information giving rise to the duty to report is acquired exclusively through sacramental confession. Colorado law exempts clergy from the duty to report when they acquire otherwise reportable information through privileged clergy communications in sacramental confession.

Prohibition of Retaliation. There shall be no retaliation or adverse employment action against clergy or other workers who, in good faith, report suspected sexual misconduct or assist in any related investigation. Any person who suspects retaliation shall immediately report the same to the Vicar General or the Diocesan Human Resources Department.

Sexual harassment does not refer to behavior or compliments of a socially acceptable nature. It refers to sexual behavior that is unwelcome, personally offensive or interferes with work effectiveness.

"Youth peer sexual harassment" is any unwelcome sexual advance, request for sexual favors or other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature by or between minors involved in any Diocesan or Parish activity and that has the purpose or effect of intimidating, embarrassing or humiliating the other person.
