About Me

My name is Michael Sparks and I'm from Dolores, Colorado. I am 31 years old, and in my sixth year of seminary at St. John Vianney Theological Seminary. I've been blessed to come from a wonderful Catholic family where I grew up on a small farm and often spent long hours joyfully lost exploring the outdoors and climbing apple trees. While prayer and study now take majority of my time, occasionally I still enjoy the outdoors and have too many hobbies to count. Before seminary I attended Oregon Institute of Technology and received a degree in civil engineering. While working in construction in CA, HI and AZ God slowly changed my heart and gave me the grace to know He wanted me to be a priest serving in the mission Diocese of Pueblo.
